

Thank you for choosing Spree Expeditions and the M/V Spree for your vacation to the Dry Tortugas.

More information about the Spree, your trip and shore-side attractions may be found in our FAQ's <http://www.spreeexpeditions.com/forms.aspx>

Interactive maps to the Spree are on our website: <http://www.spreeexpeditions.com/mapDryTortugas.aspx>

Some more things to help plan your trip:

All trips depart the night before the scheduled trip date. Please plan your air travel with enough time for minor flight delays and your luggage to catch up with you.

Boarding begins at 8:00 pm. There are no facilities for passengers to wait at the boat prior to boarding, so if you arrive in town early please plan to spend your day seeing the sights and sounds of Key West.

Join the crew for dinner at a local restaurant on boarding evening, or just meet us at the boat around 7:45 pm. If you plan to join us for dinner, come by the boat in the afternoon and we'll let you know where to meet. Please arrive at the Spree no later than 7:45 pm for boarding and briefings.

Please do not bring food or drinks with you on board. We do not have any refrigeration available for client use, and we are fully stocked for fantastic meals and snacks.

Tanks and weights are kept aboard the Spree.

Dives in the North Ecological Reserve of the Dry Tortugas range between 85fsw (the sand) to 45fsw (the reef top). We use installed moorings to secure the Spree, and fully brief each dive site.

The last charter day we dive the Vandenberg for 2 morning dives, returning to Key West in time for the sunset ceremony. For travel planning, we may be diving until noon or later.

Dinner is on your own in town the last evening, all guests are welcome to stay aboard that night and disembark the following morning by 9:00am.
